Come learn about the Master Planning Process for Waquoit Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve headquarters. We are in the process of hiring an architect to help us plan some improvements to our buildings and grounds and we'd like your input.

Many of our buildings, including the laboratory and Visitor Center, are outdated. We are also in need of meeting space to host our successful Coastal Training Programs, community education and teacher training workshops and school programs. Our goal is to improve our facilities so we can better support the excellent programs we provide, and make the Waquoit Bay Reserve a state-of-the-art research facility.

Any changes must be in the context of environmental and historic constraints imposed by the site. We would like to hear your hopes about what this place could be, and your concerns about what you don't want to see. We have held focus groups with researchers, teachers, volunteers, staff, neighbors, and Citizens for the Protection of Waquoit Bay. Now we'd like to hear from you!
